The Bead Society of Greater New York is a non-profit organization of people who love beads and beaded objects. We are professionals and amateurs who work with glass beads, polymer clay, fibers, metals, plastics, found objects and a variety of materials. Our work spans the spectrum from weaving with seed beads and making our own beads to tribal and ethnic-styled beaded jewelry.

Our purpose is to enlighten the public about the historical and cultural influence and importance of beads. To this end we offer lectures, conduct workshops, and demonstrate techniques for working with beads.

WE OFFER

- Workshops with World Renowned and Local Bead Artists
- Monthly Meetings and Guest Lectures
- Special Events and Trips
- BSGNY Newsletters
- Discounts on Workshops and at Local Bead Shops
- Bead Library and Discounted Bead Books

Meetings are held at: (Note Special locations in September & December)

The Fashion Institute of Technology, 27th Street & 8th Avenue, Building A, 8th Floor - Faculty Lounge, NYC
